Overview	The JF Standard for Japanese-Language Education (JFS) is a tool for considering how to teach, learn, and assess Japanese language proficiency. It was developed with reference to the CEFR. The core principle of the JFS is “Japanese for mutual understanding,” with a focus on developing both competence in accomplishing tasks and competence in intercultural understanding.	This is a database of Can-do statements. With Can-do statements, it can help you to define the learning objectives clearly and your Japanese language proficiency objectively. You can search for the Can-do statements that match your goals and use them in course design, lesson planning, and assessment.	This is a website that provides materials and ideas that can be used for teaching classes and creating teaching materials. You can freely download and use resources for classroom activities, reading comprehension, illustrations, photos, realia, and grammar explanations. It also offers lesson plans and teaching materials aligned with the JFS framework which are aimed at achieving Can-do statements. The website allows users to upload teaching materials and comment on materials created by other users.	This is a test designed to measure learners’ competence in spoken interaction. It can be easily conducted in about 15 minutes and can be tailored to the needs of learners and educational settings. It can also be used for purposes such as placement tests. You can view and download videos, necessary manuals and materials needed to conduct the test from the website.

Cultivating friendship and ties between Japan and the world

Through culture, language, and dialogue, the Japan Foundation creates opportunities to foster friendship, trust, and mutual understanding between Japan and other countries/regions.

FIELDS

The Japan Foundation develops programs in three different fields
—Arts and Cultural Exchange,
Japanese-Language Education Overseas,
and Japanese Studies and Global Partnerships Programs.

The Japan Foundation is Japan's only institution dedicated to carrying out comprehensive international cultural exchange programs throughout the world. The three major focuses of our activities are Arts and Cultural Exchange, Japanese-Language Education Overseas, and Japanese Studies and Global Partnerships Programs. The Japan Foundation has a global network consisting of the Tokyo Headquarters, the Kyoto Office, two affiliated organizations (the Japan Foundation Japanese-Language Institute, Urawa; and the Japan Foundation Japanese-Language Institute, Kansai), and 26 overseas offices (As of March 31, 2026). We are working to facilitate exchange in a variety of fields with the aim of further deepening mutual understanding and ties between Japanese people and the world.

文化

Culture

Arts and Cultural Exchange

Coming into contact with arts and cultures from other countries generates and stimulates people's interest and empathy beyond language barriers. By introducing diverse aspects of Japanese arts and culture to people around the world, we bring people closer together.

言語

Language

Japanese-Language Education Overseas

The Japan Foundation provides opportunities for more people worldwide to learn Japanese and works to help Japanese-language education develop autonomously and sustainably in each country. We also strive to enhance initiatives that respond to contemporary needs, such as achieving a multicultural society.

対話

Dialogue

Japanese Studies and Global Partnerships Programs

The Japan Foundation promotes Japanese studies overseas and seeks to sustain dialogue with the rest of the world, thereby increasing mutual understanding and trust, and enhance global collaboration and human networks that can solve common issues.
