

JFT Basic

The Japan Foundation Test for Basic Japanese

The JFT-Basic is a test measuring the Japanese language communication skills that foreign nationals need for daily life and work in Japan.

As a rule, the test is conducted every month.

*Test days and capacity vary depending on the venue.

You can select a date and time at your convenience as long as seats are available !

The test can be used to apply for status of residence: “Specified Skilled Worker (i)” and “Employment for Skill Development”.

Assessment results are indicated by Japanese language proficiency levels—A1, A2.1, or A2.2 (A2)—required for those status !

The test is computer-based, with results available immediately after taking the test.

The official notification of assessment results required for applications will also be issued within 5 business days after taking the test !
